

981 is a long range narrow beam set intended for height finding by measurement of angle of sight. Its beam width is expected to be about 2° in both planes and its range for height finding about 60 miles. The aerial weighs about 12 tons [like the 980] and the sets are for carriers only. Fleet carriers will have two sets each.